

March 13

National Seminar on Future Academic Libraries: Issues and Challenges

March 13, 2015 at 10am to March 14, 2015 at 4pm – Allahabad

The digital revolution in information and communication technologies has created new platform for free flow of information, knowledge and ideas across the globe. It affected the way of world's functions profoundly. Internet has become a important resource and tool of social and academic development as well as educational development. ICT gadgets and internet has become a prime face tool of education. Academic libraries as of hub of academic activities have been very much effected key this revolution of electronics and communication. It has given opportunities the new kind of services and raised some challenges also, regarding content management in house practices, IPR issues and other technical issues. With all advantage of emerging technologies academic libraries are facing new universities like information security trends in the light of above issues is the need of hour to set future academic libraries in order to serve academic community for national and social development.

Organized by: Dr R J Maurya

Read More...