

CYBRARIAN:

CYBRARIAN is a ready-to-use, cloud hosted, Software as a Service platform with a comprehensive set of features that help library managers in establishing and running their libraries. Leveraging the latest technological breakthroughs of agile development, cloud based computing, clustered computing, security and scalability, CYBRARIAN provides a reliable, scalable & proven solution at an affordable cost to libraries for building and managing their online presence. CYBRARIAN has been built through several years of research in the library industry and every aspect of the platform has been designed from a librarian & user's perspective through simplified interfaces. While the backend is smart, robust and technologically deep – the management tools are simple, intuitive and user friendly.
